JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 8, 1934

TEN PAGES—THREE CENTS

TEMPERATURES IN MIDDLEWEST HIT NEW HIGHS

CURRENT HEAT WAVE BRINGS DEATH TO 4

Poplar Bluff, Mo., Reports High Of 107
Degrees

(By the Associated Press)
Centering its devastating attack on Kansas and Missouri, the reborn heat wave sent temperatures to new highs in many parts of the middle west yesterday. The Rocky Mountain and Western States shared in the heat bombardment and the drought extended its far flung domain.
The current heat wave brought death to four persons in Iowa and temperatures of 103 were recorded at Ottumwa and Keokuk.
Kansas and Missouri remained in the grip of the 100 degree temperatures which laid siege last Saturday. The official readings at Topeka was 106 at mid-afternoon and the Kaw river there was at 1.5 feet the lowest stage ever recorded. Kansas City had its fourth consecutive day of 106 degree heat or higher. The 24 hour minimum was 86.
107 At Poplar Bluff
Poplar Bluff, Mo., sweltered as the mercury showed an official 107, the highest of the year there. Many other Missouri cities reported 100 degrees or higher.
Citizens at Dodge City Kan., where the temperature at noon was 101 degrees, asserted that there would not be enough feed to carry the drought depleted cattle through even a mild winter unless rain is received soon.
Community canning plants to preserve drought slaughtered beef were decided upon for each Oklahoma county as the heat wave remained unbroken. A maximum of 103 was reached at Newark.
Rain continued to evade Texas, where farm officials asserted it soon would be too late to save such crops as still have a chance. State and national officials sought a way to avert a serious situation in the government's cattle buying program, now menaced by inadequate facilities. There were 40,000 head of cattle in government pens, but shipping orders for only 10,000. The temperature at Dallas remained at 97.
Scattered showers Monday night brought only slight relief to parts of Minnesota and most of eastern Nebraska. Crops in Northeastern Nebraska, where hopes are held for a decent yield, were helped by good rains.
Temperatures mounted in Illinois, where the humidity added to the discomfort. Centralia reported 102 degrees at noon, and Springfield again had 101 degree heat. At Chicago the readings were in the upper 80's.
While other sections were crying for rain, the area around Bismarck, N. Dak., night had its second cloudburst in 24 hours. Streets and homes were flooded at Copport.

HEAT WAVE RETURNS
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 7.—(P)—After given central Illinois a few days respite, the sun set out again today to establish new heat records. At two o'clock the thermometer registered 102 degrees, making the 16th day this summer that the 100 degree mark has been passed.

WEATHER
For Jacksonville and vicinity—Partly cloudy Wednesday and Thursday; the forecast issued from Chicago last night. Temperatures will be cooler in the north part of the state.
The mercury hit 106 yesterday afternoon, according to the report issued by the U. S. Cooperative Weather Bureau at the Norbury Sanitarium last night. At sunset the thermometer registered 94, while the lowest temperature during the past 24 hours was 77.
Barometer readings were A. M. 30.16; P. M. 30.14.
Illinois—Partly cloudy Wednesday and Thursday; cooler north portion Thursday.
Indiana—Partly cloudy and warm Wednesday; Thursday unsettled, followed by cooler in north portion.
Wisconsin—Scattered showers Wednesday or Wednesday night, followed by clearing and cooler Thursday.
Iowa—Scattered showers Wednesday or Wednesday night; Thursday partly cloudy and cooler.

COURT TANGLE IS ADDED TO POLITICAL WAR

New Orleans Mayor Continues Fight With Huey Long

New Orleans, Aug. 7.—(P)—A court tangle was added late today to the military confusion in the political war over city control between Mayor T. Semmes Walmsley and Senator Huey P. Long. The legality of services of a consultant order on Adjutant General Raymond Fleming was questioned by Judge Nat Bond of civil district court, who issued the order.
Deputy sheriffs sought to execute service against Fleming, who has two dodging process servers, by advancing a few feet within the Jackson barracks reservation and throwing the court documents at the feet of a corporal, who refused to pick them up.
Apparently their trouble was in vain as Judge Bond said service on a rule of contempt had to be made "in person" against the defendant.
The contempt order was aimed at the adjutant because of the failure to demobilize the troops on order of the court.

EXTORTIONIST
ARRESTED BY
N. Y. POLICE

Former Chauffeur Of Oil Magnate Admits
Blackmail Plot

New York, Aug. 7.—(P)—A former chauffeur for Col. Henry Huddleston Rogers was arrested tonight and confessed, police said, to a blackmail extortion plot against the Standard Oil multi-millionaire.
The chauffeur, John Cvaniga, 26, was seized, the police reported, after he had narrowly escaped being shot by detectives.
Cvaniga was described as a native of Pueblo, Colo., who had been in the Rogers' employ for six months in 1933. He was quoted as saying the plot was his own idea and that he had no accomplices.
On July 23, Rogers, father of former Countess Ludwig Salmhoogstraeten, received a letter at his Long Island summer home, written in ink on a linen paper, threatening harm to his wife. The present Mrs. Rogers is the former Mrs. Pauline Van Der Voort Bremer. They were married in August, 1933.
The letter was mailed from the Midtown district.
On July 31, Col. Rogers received a third letter. It was mailed from the same district and gave instructions on how to prepare the money, which was to be left in the shop of an innocent tailor, whose name the police withheld.
Upon receiving the second letter, Col. Rogers notified police.
At that instance the multi-millionaire took an old suitcase, used about $100 to make dummy stacks of money, the centers of which were newspapers and the ends $10 bills, the "money" held together with rubber bands. This was placed in an old shoe box and then in a suitcase stuffed about with newspapers.
The second letter had ordered Col. Rogers to take the suitcase to the tailor shop at exactly 10 A. M. Friday, August 3, and give it to the tailor, telling him the suit case would be called for.
The tailor was enlisted in the police investigation.
On both Friday and Saturday, police said, while detectives watched the shop and scrutinized its patrons, Cvaniga entered and asked if a suitcase had been left. Each time he was given an affirmative reply but he walked out.
A telephone call to the tailor today inquired if the suitcase was still there. He reported the call to the waiting police.
At 6:30 P. M. detectives said Cvaniga entered and obtained it.
As he walked north on a nearby street detectives closed in on him. At the next corner detective Stephan DeRosa drew his revolver, he said, and told Cvaniga he was under arrest.
Cvaniga grabbed the butt of the detective's revolver and begged him not to shoot.
Lieut. Neuman and two other detectives mistook this action for an attempt to fight and drew their own weapons.
On a warning shout from DeRosa they withdrew fire.
The prisoner was taken to headquarters and charged with blackmail and extortion. Authorities said they would proceed under the federal "Lindbergh law."

WILLIAM VARE
C. O. P. LEADER
DIES SUDDENLY

Prominent Politician
Was Last Of Family
Of 10 Children

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 7.—(P)—William S. Vare, dominant figure in Philadelphia politics until recently, died suddenly today at his home in Philadelphia. He was 67 years old.
Although in ill health, death came suddenly to the once powerful Republican organization leader. Stricken with paralysis six years ago this month, "Bill" Vare clung to life to fight more political battles.
Dividing his time between the New Jersey seashore in the summer and Florida in the winter, Vare suffered a number of relapses. Ten days ago he went to Philadelphia during the excessive heat wave and over-taxed his waning strength.
He took to his bed and news of his set-back did not become public knowledge until early today. Then his son-in-law, Dr. John J. Shaw, announced the national committeeman had been quite ill but that he showed marked improvement.
Death Comes Suddenly
Members of his family said he sat up and pleasantly chatted with them. Before noon he was seized with a heart attack and death came twenty minutes later.
That he was seriously ill during the last ten days was shown by the fact that all members of the Vare family had been summoned to the summer home late last week, and all were at the bedside when he passed away.
He was the last of a family of ten children which included three sisters and was youngest of the three brothers whose names were written large in Philadelphia politics for a generation.
He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Ida Morris Vare, and two daughters, Mrs. William F. Kipp and Mrs. John J. Shaw, wife of Dr. Shaw.
Among others present when death came was a nephew, Edwin H. Vare, Jr., and his wife, the former Gloria Collett, internationally known golfer.
The funeral, the family said, will be held in Philadelphia, probably Thursday.
"Bill" Vare, once a city councilman, recorder of deeds, congressman, state senator, United States Senator-elect and national committeeman, reigned as the dominant political leader of Philadelphia for a dozen years. His control was absolute until he was stricken down with paralysis at the peak of his power, while knocking in vain at the doors of the United States Senate for admission.
In 1926 when George Wharton Pepper announced himself as a candidate for a full term and Governor Gifford Pinchot entered the race for the nomination, Vare saw his chance to wedge into the senate and announced his candidacy.
In the three-cornered fight Vare won the nomination. The big fight for him, however, still was in front of him. He won the election easily over William B. Wilson, who was secretary of labor in the Woodrow Wilson cabinet, but two movements were started to keep him out of the senate. One was an election contest set up by Wilson on the allegations of fraud and the other was started by Vare's political enemies who charged him with excessive campaign expenditures to win the nomination and election.

HARRY S. TRUMAN
LEADS DEMOCRAT
SENATORIAL RACE

Pendergast Candidate Has Large Plurality In Missouri Primary

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—(P)—Three aspirants for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate were virtually deadlocked tonight in early tabulations of votes from today's primary.
Rep. Jacob L. Milligan, supported by Senator Bennett Champ Clark; Harry S. Truman, sponsored by the Kansas City organization of T. J. Pendergast, and Rep. John L. Cochran of St. Louis, son of his home town administration, were the contestants in the bitter primary campaign marked by cries of "Bossism."
The victor will meet Senator Roosevelt Patterson, St. Louis Republican who was unopposed for his party's nomination, in the November election.
Returns from 567 of the state's 4,269 precincts gave for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator: John J. Cochran, 24,455; Harry S. Truman, 62,077; Jacob L. Milligan, 18,467. Longstreet Cleveland, 1,014.
The strength of Pendergast's Kansas City organization was placed squarely behind Truman, who has been a member of the Jackson County (Kansas City) court, or board of county commissioners. The first precinct in Kansas City to report gave Truman 806 votes and his opponents none. The first seven Kansas City precincts gave Truman 2,865; Milligan 18, and Cochran 7.
Charleston, W. Va., Aug. 7.—(P)—With 217 of the state's 2,335 precincts reported, Rush D. Holt, 29, tonight was gaining steadily over his field of Democratic rivals for the U. S. Senate nomination from West Virginia. Results of the leaders:
Holt, 9,617; Shaver, 5,380; Taylor, 3,806; Chilton, 3,718.
U. S. Senator Henry D. Hatfield took a commanding lead in the primary race for the Republican Senatorial nomination. With 168 of the state's 2,335 precincts reported, the count stood:
Hatfield 10,733.
Rosenblum 1,315.

BOY KILLER AWAITS
MOTHER'S ARRIVAL

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 7.—(P)—Billy Aares, the 13-year-old Chicago lad who said he was "driven by a devil" to slay a playmate, today anxiously awaited the arrival of his mother, Mrs. Roy Kenoff, from London, Ontario.
The mother, together with the boy's step-father, Roy Kenoff, Chicago taxi-cab driver, were expected here sometime this evening.
Billy has confessed he killed a playmate, Ray Wylder, 11 years old of Auburn. He had spent several weeks visiting relatives at Auburn when he and several other boys broke into a school house. Later Billy said he learned the Wylder boy had "told" on him so he obtained a gun last Friday and shot and killed Ray.

Roosevelt Says Government Will Do Everything Possible To Solve Drought Problem

By Francis Stephenson
Associated Press Staff Writer
Enroute with President Roosevelt to Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—President Roosevelt crossed the seared plains of the northwest tonight with a message of hope that the government would do everything possible to counteract the heretofore unsolvable problem of drought.
Making no promises, the President Franklin told a dust-laden crowd at Devils Lake, N. D., this morning he did not know the solution but he gave assurance and cheer. "I will not give up until I can give my good service to solving the problem of North Dakota."
Smiling faces looked hopefully at the president as he left his special train there to motor through clouds of dust about the seared shores of Devils Lake. Signs pleaded for delivery of the Missouri river to reverse this lake and region.
"Engineers have not found a place for a dam to make this possible," he stated. "I have a responsibility and I can't build a dam unless I have the best engineering assurance that it is not only the right but the safe thing to do."
But he did promise an early conference to review intensive studies being made of the project.
The presidential special neared Minneapolis, heart of one of the country's most troublesome strikes, for a brief stop at midnight. The train proceeds on during the night to Rochester, Minn., where the president stops tomorrow to participate in honoring the Mayo Brothers whose nationally known clinic is established there.
Both Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, and Rep. Elmer Holde, Democrat, the candidates for a Minnesota Senate seat this fall, were on the presidential special and Mr. Roosevelt broke bread with them.
Senator Nye, republican, of North Dakota, introduced him at Devils Lake with the declaration "It is my pleasure to present one whose leadership and friendship means so much to us in the northwest."
"Friends," the president told the Devils Lake throng, "I can earnestly say my heart is not happy today because I am seeing with my own eyes what I have been reading about for so long. I have been seeing at first hand a problem that has perplexed me and others. It is a problem and I wouldn't try to fool you by saying I know the solution. I don't but if it is possible to find the solution we are going to do it."
Remarking with a smile and amid chuckles that during his auto ride he had observed the signs "You give us beer, now give us water," the president said, "the beer part was easy."
The crowd roared with delight.

NON-UNION MEN RETREAT FROM PEKIN PLANT

Pickets Maintaining Blockade Around
Distillery

Pekin, Ill., Aug. 7.—(P)—Heads were cracked this afternoon as pickets maintained a blockade around the American Distillery Company's plant here and threatened a general strike if deputy sheriffs interfered.
Five men were hit by clubs and bricks as a gang of some 200 non-union workers attempted to force their way into the distillery, one of the largest in the nation. Three were reported seriously hurt, one of them a one-armed man who wore a hook.
The non-union men retreated, leaving the pickets, estimated at more than 200, on guard at all entrances.
Earlier in the day chief deputy sheriff Ernest Fleming and other officers tried to escort a group of workers into the distillery. They gave up the attempt when union leaders declared they would call a general strike if opposed by the law.
The plant was closed last night when about two dozen members of the Firemen's and Oilers' Union, Peoria Local No. 8, walked out, followed in sympathy by the members of the Distillers' Union.
They claimed that union men had been discharged and the grievance committee denied a hearing in violation of the true name of Governor Horner on the night of Memorial Day. The plant was picketed for several days at that time.
State's attorney Nathan T. Eliff started arbitration efforts. At Springfield it was understood that a national guard officer would not be sent here as an observer. The guard is now in training at Camp Grant.

VON HINDENBURG OPENED DOOR TO NAZISM, CLAIM

Prosperity Has Apparently Hit
"Underworld"

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(P)—Apparently prosperity's hit the underworld. Sam Ginsburg walked out into his hallway today and smacked into a man with a gun.
"Give me your dough," said the man.
"Sure," said Sam, "but I've only got $5."
"Five bucks?" said the man, "nothing doing these times. I would take less than $50." And he walked off.
The final rites, brief and simple as the field marshal had wished, were conducted on the very spot where 20 years ago he stopped the Russian invasion.
After the coffin had been brought here from the Von Hindenburg estate at Neudeck, along 60 miles of torch-lit road, there was prayer, music, a short talk by an army chaplain and Hitler's fervent speech in which he declared the name of Von Hindenburg cannot be allowed to die.
Hitler said Von Hindenburg "opened the door to the representatives" of German resurgence, a reference understood to be to the Nazi movement.
"Twice in the life of a soldier honorable mention comes to him alone—after a great victory and after death," said the chancellor.
He reviewed the life of the late Reich president, beginning with his first battle in the war of 1870.
His name was like that of uncounted thousands of officers," he declared, "unknown to the great mass of people."
"When the German people 44 years later remembered Von Hindenburg's name the clouds of war hung over Europe. In the worst of these times Kaiser Wilhelm called upon Von Hindenburg to take over supreme command of the army."
"Six days later guns were booming and three days later church bells rang in celebration of the victory of Tannenberg."
"Large areas of German land were saved from devastation and from now on everybody in Germany had Von Hindenburg's name on his lips—the man who saved the country and led the army from victory to victory."
"Unfortunately, he was called too late to head all the armies of the Reich. Nevertheless, for two years more he inspired that army to unexampled victories."
"The unfortunate end of the war can under no circumstances be charged against him. It merely passes judgment on the inability of the politicians of that day."
Of Von Hindenburg's presidency, Hitler said:
"It was under his presidency that preparations could be made for the resurgence of the German nation; it was he who opened the door to the representatives of that resurgence. In his name a union was achieved between the past and the future. x x x
"The soldiers and the flags hold eternal parade. The German people, however, will make a pilgrimage to the dead hero to gather the new strength the times need."
His field marshal has gone into Valhalla.
Music followed Hitler's eulogy. "The Song of the Good Comrade," "Deutschland Lied" and the Nazi "Horst Wessel Song."
Then honor salutes were fired, and finally the coffin was carried up into the tower of the great monument.
Tonight in slow procession through the tower room began the pilgrimage to the shrine which will continue for days.
The immense iron gates of the tower room had been removed for the 14-day period of national mourning during which the coffin may be viewed by the public. After that period the room will rebuilt into a formal mausoleum.
Tonight's procession, seemingly endless, was evidence of the national grief.
While the 6,000 spectators who had places in the monument for the services were returning to their homes, other thousands remained, determined to wait through the night if necessary to see the coffin.
Throughout Germany there will be signs of mourning for the next two weeks. Many places of amusement will be closed, and no public dance music will be permitted. For the army the mourning period will continue a month.
There was no counting of the thousands of Germans who heard but did not see the ceremonies as they stood back in the plain near the monument. Inside in black draped rows along the walls were diplomats, friends of Von Hindenburg and other distinguished guests.

HITLER SPEAKS AT BURIAL OF GERMAN HERO

Rites Held On Spot Of Great Russian
Battle

By A. D. Steffard,
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Tannenberg, Germany, Aug. 7.—(P)—In a tower room of the national shrine erected in memory of his greatest military victory, the body of President Paul von Hindenburg rested tonight while thousands of his fellow-countrymen waited patiently in flickering torch light for a glimpse of his coffin.
Funeral services in which his successor, Chancellor Adolf Hitler, with deepening feeling said Von Hindenburg "opened the door" to the present regime delivered the old soldier into his monumental shrine.
The final rites, brief and simple as the field marshal had wished, were conducted on the very spot where 20 years ago he stopped the Russian invasion.
After the coffin had been brought here from the Von Hindenburg estate at Neudeck, along 60 miles of torch-lit road, there was prayer, music, a short talk by an army chaplain and Hitler's fervent speech in which he declared the name of Von Hindenburg cannot be allowed to die.

U.S. AGENT SAYS NAZIS OFFERED MONEY FOR GUNS

German Consul Refuses To Appear Before Committee

Los Angeles, August 7.—(P)—Dr. George Gyseling, German vice consul here, declined today to appear before a congressional sub-committee which a few hours previously heard testimony that an alleged pro-Nazi organization at San Diego offered money for stolen government rifles and ammunition.
The committee will have to get the consent of the German embassy in Washington," Dr. Gyseling said, adding he understood he was wanted "for questioning in regard to a $215 check, made out to cash, and endorsed by a person whose activities are under suspicion."
Just before the vice consul declined to appear, Virgil Hayes, who said he was working in the intelligence service of the United States marines, told the committee he joined the San Diego Silver Shirts, and said a member of that reputedly Nazi organization offered him money for machine guns, rifles and ammunition to be stolen from military forces.
Silver Shirts Drill
Hayes asserted he had seen Silver Shirts drilling with rifles presumably obtained from San Diego military sources and that they had been arming themselves and drilling in a plot to take control of the United States government.
The Marine observer said he had been told of large caches of ammunition stored by the Silver Shirts and said he had seen small amounts.
Asked by the committee attorney what the purpose of the Silver Shirts was, Hayes said:
"To change the government. William Dudley Pelley, the national organizer, told me the plan was to incorporate the nation, giving each adult a share of stock. This would bear a monthly dividend of $80 a share he said. He also planned to deport the Jews."
His story followed published reports that the committee had obtained evidence of Nazi activity by the San Diego Silver Shirt organization.
Hayes said that as an intelligence worker in the Marines he obtained membership in the San Diego Silver Shirts.
"I was made an instructor," Hayes testified. "The Silver Shirts were armed with rifles, pistols and shotguns, but mainly Springfield rifles bearing a United States government mark."
"I was told the rifles had been purchased from members of the military forces in San Diego."
The former Marine testified the offer for guns and ammunition was made by W. W. Kemp, who was described as commander of the San Diego Silver Shirts. He said Kemp offered him $10 for rifles, $50 for machine guns and $20 a case for ammunition.

NEAL MYERS IS BOUND OVER TO DISTRICT COURT

Pharmacy Student Is Charged With Murdering Marian Mills

Norman, Okla., Aug. 7.—(P)—Neal Myers, 21 year old pharmacy student, was bound over to district court today for trial on a charge of murdering Marian Mills, 19 year old former beauty queen at the University of Oklahoma.
Justice of the Peace J. D. Grigsby took the action after hearing a parade of prosecution witnesses, among them Mrs. Hazel Brown, middle-aged, red-haired cook at whose home the girl's body was found July 10 by a doctor who answered an urgent phone call from Myers.
The defendant fled before the physician's arrival, but surrendered last week.
Post mortem examinations, ordered by Paul Updegraff, Cleveland county attorney, determined that the pretty daughter of a University professor was enceinte, and three surgeons testified today that in their opinion the girl died of shock following an attempted abortion.
"Neal came to me last March and said he was in trouble—that a girl friend of his was in trouble too," Mrs. Brown said.
Later, she said, the boy came to her and told her that "a doctor in Chickasha" had prescribed a simple remedy for the girl.
"The next time I saw Neal was July 9, the night before Marian died. She was with him that time."
"We sat around and talked for about thirty minutes or an hour. She got up from time to time and took some white capsules. She said she had started taking them about 1 o'clock that afternoon."

POSTAL BUSINESS SHOWS INCREASE

CALL STRIKE

Washington, Aug. 7.—(P)—Postmaster General Farley said today postal business had increased to such an extent that 1,885 additional employees were to be put to work August 16 in 71 offices.
The hiring of workers whose combined annual pay is around $3,400,000 came after the recent statement by Farley that for the first time in 15 years the postoffice department for the fiscal year ended June 30, showed a surplus over ordinary operating expenses—of around $5,000,000.
Asked today what employment of the additional help would do to his budget balancing campaign, Farley said he was not out to make the postal service a money making business and that increased revenues would go largely into improved service.
CALL STRIKE
Pana, Ill., August 7.—(P)—Relief workers employed on road projects in Tower Hill and Moweaqua townships, Shelby County, went on strike today, 150 failing to report.
The Tower Hill workers demanded 62 cents an hour instead of their present 50 cents, while Moweaqua workers demanded 65 cents and a guarantee of 24 hours work a week.
Strikers were said to be members of the Shelby County Unemployed League, which has previously fostered similar strikes.

They Got Results
Twenty-eight deaths and 30 injuries from auto accidents on the highways thru their village in six months was too much for 1,500 residents of Cadzow, a suburb of Paris.
Last Sunday they blocked the highway and compelled motorists to dismount, declaring the they did not want any more of their children killed.
The move of the village authorities to take the law into their own hands brought results, which repeated protests had failed to secure. A policeman was placed on the highway to compel the motorists to slow down while passing thru the village, and the lives of the people were thus protected. There is apparently more than one way to get traffic rules enforced.
The people of that village felt that they had just cause. The highway
no doubt formed one of their streets which they had to cross in going about their business. The road was there for their use before the cars came. It is little wonder that they staged a demonstration after the suffering and sorrow they had endured.

Our Flag Comes Down
There is one place in the world where the American flag has been hailed down, and where we hope it will never again float. At the American Marine post at Cap Haitien on the island of Haiti there was a simple ceremony this week, in which the American flag was hauled down and the flag of Haiti raised. For 19 years our flag had floated there, while our marine soldiers occupied the post and dominated the government of the island republic.
On Tuesday the American occupation came to an end. All marines were concentrated for departure to the United States. The country hopes it will never be necessary for them to return. The domination of small governments is a distasteful business and is usually undertaken to protect private interest.
Haiti now stands alone, and it is hoped the people have learned enough of self-government to avoid revolution and past mistakes, which led to foreign occupation. It will not be many years until American troops will be withdrawn from the Philippines, to which our Congress has granted independence.
In this policy of merely supervising foreign territory and educating the people for self-government, the United States differs from other countries. We have enough land and resources to accommodate our people and do not need to colonize, as do other nations that are crowded for living space. They hold foreign territory largely for colonization and to furnish raw materials they cannot secure within their limited borders.

Side Lights
With Hindenburg finally buried,
news is scarce.
An Ohio girl wants a Colorado consult released so she can marry him.
Maybe he'd rather stay in prison.
An Idaho baker says NRA is like a Mother Hubbard. "It rovers everything and touches nothing."
Recent press accounts lead us to believe bombing is on the boom in Illinois.
Pekin, Ill., is becoming as interesting as its namesake in China.
Mussolini has sent his right-hand man to prison, because he was no longer on the right side.

TO RETURN TO MICHIGAN
Mr. and Mrs. Clifford McGraw, who have been visiting with his parents,
Mr. and Mrs. James McGraw of 271
Hardin avenue, will return to Detroit, Michigan this week. They will be accompanied by Paul McGraw, an employee in the National Re-Employment offices here.
John Peters of Waterville was transacting business in Jacksonville this morning.

A Memorable Moment
At Biarritz, France, a 12-year old lad, name unknown, was taking a swim in the sea. Suddenly he found himself beyond his depths and being swept farther out by a huge wave. He called for help.
Also taking a swim, and close by,
was the Prince of Wales. He plunged after the boy and pulled him to shore.
A few people crowded about and congratulated the prince and the boy must have learned the identity of his rescuer. For this lad it was a memorable moment.
In future years he will no doubt take his grandchildren on his knee and tell them how he came near drowning and was rescued by the Prince of Wales. The kids will be filled with wonder, and Grandpa will no doubt varnish up the story a bit to suit the occasion.
Then some reporter will come along when this lad is about 80 years old and give him a writeup, and maybe a letter or some sort will be written to the King of England to acknowledge the citizen's gratitude to the one time Prince for his kindness.
The Prince will not be alive then, but maybe one of his descendants will be ruling in England—and maybe not.

Sorry, But Too Late
"I was sorry, but it was too late,"
said 13-year old Billy Atares, who is held in the Sangamon county jail
for the murder of his companion, Raymond Wylder, II. The boy admitted that he knew the gun was loaded, and that he was angry at the other for "squeling" on him concerning some robberies.
The lad said between the pulling of the trigger and the explosion of the gun, he realized what he had done,
and that he was sorry—but it was too late. That's petty quick repentance, but it could not undo the wrong.
We note that the mother of this boy was in Canada, his stepfather in Chicago, and other relatives scattered about elsewhere. Apparently he was without parental care and guidance.
It is now too late for those who should have been responsible for him to do anything. No doubt they are sorry also—but it is too late.
We are all such bunglesome creatures. It seems we never consider the consequences of what we are about to do, but we are always regretting what we have done. Most of us are sorry, but after it's too late, if we could only be sorry for the sins we are about to commit, this old world might soon become a Utopia.

The New Deal
in Washington
This is the sixth of a series of articles on the more important agencies created under the New Deal, their aims and activities, written by Rodney Dutcher, Journal-Courier and NEA Washington correspondent.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent.

Washington, Aug. 7.—The New Deal's big squeeze play against the "power trust" is operating on all fronts.
At least seven federal inquiries into phases of electricity, its sale and future development are under way.
They all tie in with a grim effort to force down rates until use of cheap and abundant electricity becomes universal.
Congress has backed the administration in its policy of spending hundreds of millions on huge power projects and stimulating public power plants wherever private rates are unsatisfactory. Secretary Ickes has lent $50,000,000 of PWA money to build public plants.

The Tennessee Valley Authority,
buying and building facilities in its territory, is selling power at about half the price charged elsewhere.
Official warning has been issued that rate scales approximating TVA's must come into effect throughout the land.
The squeeze play is directed at watered securities, holding company plundering, excessive rates and other forms of financial racketeering which made the "power trust" a stench in the national nostrils.
It is based on the partially demonstrated theory that fair private profits can be retained and even increased by expanded sales resulting from low rates.

TVA Making Thorough Check
The TVA and the Mississippi Valley Committee are investigating power
and other resources in their areas.
And the TVA is checking on local power rates in many cities, since it must approve them before it will agree to sell locally—through the Electric Home and Farm Authority—its cheap electric ranges, refrigerators, heaters and other appliances.
Meanwhile, the utilities, which once seemed to have lost their old fight,
are getting injunctions against rate decreases. But court decisions against them increase in frequency and importance.

REV. AND MRS. BEADLES
PLAN TO MAKE HOME
HERE; WERE IN WEST
Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Beadles, who have been making Los Angeles, California their home for the past 20 years, have returned to Jacksonville and are located at 403 West College Avenue.
Mr. Beadles work as evangelist and lecturer has extended to the Pacific Coast and he is glad to say that he has filled more evangelistic and Chautauque engagements in his native Illinois than in any other state.
Mr. Beadles, formerly a resident of Murrayville, will be remembered as having conducted a successful revival in Jacksonville twenty years ago. He and Mrs. Beadles contemplate making Jacksonville their permanent home.

RETURN FROM FAIR
Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bonansinka and daughter, Miss Anna, have returned from Chicago, where they spent several days attending the fair.

Hot on Trail of Utilities
Heading up the administration program is the new National Power Policy Committee, chaired by Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, and staffed by members of federal groups dealing with power and the utilities.
The Roosevelt Federal Power Commission, loaded with progressives, is engaged in three inquiries which will gather essential ammunition.
First is the congressional mandate, sponsored by Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, to make the first complete compilation of all electric light and power company rates charged in every town and city.
Rate schedules are so complex that rates in one community can't be compared with those of another. The FPC will reduce it all to one common formula and pick up information which will indicate what equipment and markets municipal plants must have to succeed. Citizens thus will be able to yell intelligently for or against their own municipal plants, and private utilities can learn how lower rates stimulate a larger volume sale.

Costs Are Studied Carefully
FPC is also studying costs of generation, transmission, and distribution—the third a cost carefully considered by electricity companies—and under executive order, is engaged in a national survey of all power resources and economic feasibility of each.
The power survey is a phase of national planning begun with the memory that unplanned power industry expansion has resulted in both overdevelopment and underdevelop-ment in different areas.
The Federal Trade Commission received from the last Congress permission to continue its utilities investigation until 1936, when it will have made a report and recommendations for strict federal regulation.
It has more companies to investigate.
FTC disclosures since 1928 have included discrediting of about $1,250,000
in writeups of securities—absorbed by innocent investors who are now sorry and used as rate bases with which to soak the public—subsidizing of writers, college professors and newspapers for propaganda, expensive lobbying against public projects, holding company rackets under which companies paid one another excessive fees at customer expense and stock market manipulation.

Chautauqua Draws Crowd at White Hall
White Hall, Aug. 7.—The nineteenth annual Chautauqua opened in White Hall, Sunday with a good attendance
both in the afternoon and at night, though the evening attendance was much larger than the afternoon. The lecture in the afternoon by Dr. P. C.
Somerville was very good and the Kackley players Sunday afternoon and evening were exceptionally pleasing. The Mason Jubilee singers on Tuesday afternoon and evening will be followed with a free watermelon feed for everybody. This proved to be quite an event last year and no doubt will be this year.
Wednesday will be a free day with a program by the Sunday schools in the county. There will be some exceptional talent from Greene county and from outside sources, including the McKendree college quartet, Shurtlett college, Virginia Merrill's chorus from Roodhouse, the Roodhouse Brothers quartet, and good speakers. There will be a picnic supper and in the evening, Harold Boggess of national reputation as an opera singer will give a concert with accompaniment by his father, Professor Newton Bogges of Alton. This will be followed by a home talent pageant by White Hall people. A silver offering will be taken. It is expected that this will be one of the biggest days of the week, both in the way of talent and attendance.
William P. Bradshaw, veteran mail carrier on a rural route of White Hall, who has never missed a session of the Chautauqua and has never been tardy
for a session is keeping up his record
again this year.

Rainey Speaks at Plie
The Greene County Farm Bureau
picnic held Saturday in the big Chautauqua tent in Gregory park, south of White Hall, drew one of the largest attendance crowds ever convened by this group. Speaker of the House, H.
T. Rainey was the principal speaker and he was followed by Earl Smith of Detroit, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, who is always popular with a Greene county audience. Mr. Hunt, the new Farm Bureau advisor, was introduced and made a few remarks. C. W. Ballard told of the Greene County Service company activities and L. R. Lee of Carrollton spoke on the Farm Bureau
Insurance. The president of the Farm Bureau, K. T. Smith of Greenville, presided. Elmer Garrison and Fred Kirbach were champion horse shoe pitchers. Other athletic events were held, including classes for children under and over twelve years old.
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Harrison and Misses Reina and Maude Doughty drove to Milton Sunday where they were guests of Mr. Harrison's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Thurmon.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mitts and Grover Nash drove to Chicago and spent the week end with Maxine Mitts who has employment there.
The 4-19 class of the First Baptist church will again hold a fried fish
sale at the church on Friday, August

17. Their initial venture was very successful.
Mrs. Sallie Page of Louisiana, Missouri was the guest of Mrs. Harry Wait on Carrollton street, Thursday.
Born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pence,
south of Hillview Sunday night,
August 5, a daughter.
Virginia Fraser accompanied her aunt, Mrs. Vida Hess and her cousin, Lynn Hess to their home in St. Louis
Sunday night for a short visit.

Kansas City Woman
Sends First Morgan
County Fair Entry
The first entry for the 1934 Morgan County Fair has been received and this time the honor goes to the Night Horse Show. Mrs. Chester C. Michael of Kansas City has entered five horses, and was the first to send in an entry blank.
The horse show will open Tuesday evening, Aug. 28. Total premiums of $6,600 are being offered in this department of the fair, and the stakes are expected to attract a record number of high class animals. There are eight premiums available in each class, but unless there are four or more entries in any class, it will not show. Premiums range from $40 down to $150. The stake prizes range from $125 down to $35.
Entries for the entire fair will close Saturday, Aug. 25. The management is emphasizing this date and desires that all entries be in at that time.
When entries are delayed it makes more work and causes complication.
Local exhibitors are the worst offenders in holding out their entries, though they should be the first to get them listed.
All exhibits must be on the grounds ready to show by 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, Aug. 28, and no exhibit can be removed from the grounds without permission of the department superintendent, before 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, Aug. 31.

Officers Named to Head Greene Bank
Greenfield, Aug. 7.—At a recent meeting of the directors of the local Farmers State bank the following officers were elected: Arnold P. Ten-dick, president; Edward H. Trabue, vice president and Jesse B. Parks, cashier.
Word has been received here of the recent marriage of Miss Virginia Wilhite, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilhite, north of this city and Donald Neutzman of White Hall, Ill. The marriage took place in Chicago recently. They will reside in Chicago where the groom is employed.
Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Meng and children, Marie and Billy are spending the week in Chicago and attending the world's exposition.
Mr. and Mrs. R. Guy Secor are spending a week's vacation in Chicago and attending the world's fair.
Mrs. Britton W. Swain and children, Billy, Betty Jo and Britton Junior of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, are visiting at the home of Mrs. J. Russell Shields.
Mrs. Lottie Doyel was a first of the week business caller in St. Louis, Mo.
Supt. and Mrs. H. Raymond Girhard and children, Ann and Tommy,
have returned to their home in this city from Madison, Wisconsin, where the former has been attending summer school.
Mr. and Mrs. Scott Cochran and
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weisner left recently via auto for a trip through the northwest and will visit all points of interest. They expect to be absent until Sept. 1st.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hammock and children of Ashland, Ill., are visiting at the homes of their parents, Mr.
and Mrs. George Hammock and Mr.
and Mrs. William R. Perkins.
Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Heinrichs and Asa Henderson of St. Louis, Mo., are visiting at the home of the latter's brother, William Henderson.
Mrs. Claude Secor and daughter,
Claudia have returned from Joliet, Ill., where they have been visiting at the homes of relatives and friends.
Mrs. Emma Souley and daughter, Marxie and Mrs. Louis Metcalf of Phoenix, Arizona, and Claude Souley were week end guests at the home of the former's son, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Souley in University City, Missouri.
Mr. and Mrs. Ted Overbeck and daughter of Granite City, Ill. were recent guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Clamptt.
Mrs. Martha A. Cunningham has returned to her home in this city from the DePaul's hospital in St. Louis, Mo., where she has been receiving treatment.
Mr. and Mrs. Martin Roth of St.
Louis, Mo., were Sunday guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Charles W. Meng.
Miss Leona Meng of Gardner, Kansas and Miss Marceta Turner of Orange, California, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Bauer.
Miss Dorothy McClelland of Toulon, Ill., is a house guest of her sorority sister, Miss Jean Knudson. Both being students at Eureka College.

To the Editor of The

Aboard S. S. Empress of Canada,
Aug. 7.—Get this calendar mess: Yesterday was Sunday. We had services on here and I sent a daily wire. Now they informed us "Tomorrow morning
when you set up it won't be Monday, it will be Tuesday." Now what I want to know is, did I miss Tuesday's papers or is this one going in Tuesday, or is it Wednesday. In fact I am not right sure about the month. Some men in a uniform could come up and announce "We are skipping August" and I would believe him. I bet the Republicans wish they could have skipped a year ago the fourth of last November.

SOCIETY

Pre-Nuptial Dinner

Party for Miss Rayle

Monday evening a novel pre-nuptial dinner party was given by the Misses Wilma Range, Leah Kennedy, Helen Richards, and Helen Brennan at 6:30 o'clock at the Colonial Inn, in honor of Miss Hazel Rayle, whose approaching marriage to Hadley Sager has been announced.

Following the dinner which was delightful in all of its appointments, with candle lights and a large center piece of roses adding to the charming effect, the guests were entertained at bridge at the home of Miss Leah Kennedy, 1019 West State street. After the play a miscellaneous shower, including many lovely gifts, was given to the bride. Each present was accompanied by an original verse and the reading of these added to the pleasure of the entertainment.

Prizes at bridge were won by Miss Barbara Dunlap and Miss Celia Breeding. Miss Rayle will also be guest of honor at several pre-nuptial events to be given this month.

MYERS BROS. CLINCH LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Tigers Score Eight Runs In Eighth Inning And Capture Game From Browns 12 to 8

GIANTS DEFEAT DODGERS 6 TO 4

New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Giants continued the subjugation of their National League neighbors, the Dodgers, today, but they had to come from behind to win 6 to 4 on one mighty swing by Travis Jackson and some fine relief pitching by Carl Hubbell. The victory increased the Giants' lead to four games as the Cubs lost to Pittsburgh.

Jackson's blow, a hard liner which went for a triple when it bounced off the right field wall, came with the bases loaded in the seventh and produced the winning run. Hubbell got credit for his 16th victory, relieving Johnny Salveson in the sixth but his streak of scoreless pitching was halted after 24 1-3 innings when the Dodgers scored in the eighth.

ATHLETICS WHIP RED SOX 9 TO 4

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Piling up a dozen hits behind six walks, a pair of errors, and a hit batsman, the Athletics opened their home stand with a 9 to 4 win over the Boston Red Sox today in the first contest of a three game series.

The Mackmen pounded Henry Johnson out of the box by scoring five runs in the first two innings. Joe Mullen, recruit right hander from Holy Cross, was touched for the other four runs.

Johnny Marcum held the visitors to eight well scattered hits for his sixth victory of the season.

Score: Boston, 100 000 201—4 8 2 Philadelphia, 140 301 000—9 12 0 H. Johnson, Mulligan, Pennock and R. Ferrell, Leggett, Marcum and Berry.

BRAVES TROUNCE PHILLIES 3 TO 1

Boston, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Big Ed Brandt, the Braves' effective pitcher, let the Phils down with seven scattered hits today to win by a score of 3 to 1.

The game, the first of a series of two, was settled in the first inning when the Braves jumped on Euel Moore to score all of their runs.

Brandt had the visitors under control until the sixth when he issued a walk to Bartell, who then trotted to third on a long double by Chiozza to score later on an infield out.

Score: Philadelphia, 000 001 000—1 7 2 Boston, 300 000 000—3 7 0 E. Moore, Johnson and Wilson; Brandt and Hogan.

Fred Pinkerton of the Pisgan community was in Jacksonville yesterday to transact business.

W. F. Engelhardt of Chicago was in Jacksonville to attend to some business dealings Wednesday afternoon.

WOMEN WILL HOLD HANDICAP MATCHES

Women golfers of the Country Club will hold a two-shot tournament, nine holes handicap, this afternoon over the club links. This event is a part of the schedule of play arranged for lady members of the club.

Fred Killam was a Dollar Day business visitor here.

PIRATES TRIM BRUINS 4 TO 1

Pittsburgh, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Arky Vaughan's smoking homer into the right field stands in the first inning with two on base gave the Pirates a 4 to 1 victory today over the Chicago Cubs, who fell four full games behind the speeding Giants in the National League pennant race.

Lloyd Waner had greeted Bill Lee with a single. An error on brother Paul Waner's bunt put two on base. Fred Lindstrom forced Paul at second and then Vaughan lofted the ball into the stands.

Heinie Meine, who pitched because Red Lucas reported ill, had only one rough inning, the fifth. With one out Bob O'Farrell and Charlie Grimm singled the catcher reaching third base. Hack dropped to Meine, who tried for a double play. Vaughan dropped the throw and O'Farrell scored. The next two batters flied out.

Charlie Root went to the mound for the Cubs in the fifth and yielded a run in the next frame. Manager Traynor walked, moved to third on Thevenow's single and scored on Meine's squeeze play bunt.

O'Farrell, deposed Cincinnati manager, joined the Cubs today and worked for Gabby Hartnett, who had a badly bruised thumb on his right hand.

Cardinals Blank Redlegs In Opener Of Twin Bill 2 to 0 But Drop Nightcap 9 To 2

Cincinnati, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Dropping a pitcher's battle 2 to 0 in the first game of a double-header today, the Cincinnati Reds came back to defeat the Cardinals 9 to 2 in the second.

The first game saw "Dizzy" Dean win his twentieth victory of the season, against four defeats. It saw, as well, St. Johnson hold the Cards to three hits until the eighth, when St. Johnson and Frisch singled and opened contest, another Johnny Broaca of Yale, was pounded for 15 blows in the seven innings he worked in the second.

Even with Murphy's fine hurling, the Yankees were hard pressed to take the opener as the lead changed hands four times.

Crosetti drove in the winning runs with a ninth inning single after Lazzeri had singled, Red Rolfe had walked and both had advanced on Fred Walker's sacrifice.

After the first inning, in which New York scored a run on hits by Crosetti and Ben Chapman and Gehring's fly and Washington retaliated with two that came in on three hits, there wasn't much doubt about the Cards, 1b, 4 0 0 7 1 0 Fullis, cf, 3 0 1 0 0 0 Durocher, ss, 3 0 0 2 3 0 Crawford, 3b, 1 0 0 1 1 0 Hallahan, p, 2 0 0 1 1 1 Totals, 32 2 5 24 12 1 Cincinnati, A. George Earnshaw Pitches Steady Baseball and White Sox Beat Cleveland 8 To 2

Chicago, Aug. 7.—(AP)—A 16-hit attack against three Cleveland hurlers plus George Earnshaw's steady pitching gave the White Sox an 8 to 2 victory today in the opening game of the series.

While his mates routed Mel Harder in the third and Clint Buntz in the fifth with a persistent attack that included three singles by Al Simmons and a pair of doubles by Zeke Bonura, Earnshaw shut out the Indians until the ninth, when Sammy Hae hit a homer and Frank Pytlak doubled for another run.

It was Earnshaw's tenth victory. Bonura, star first year first baseman who has hit 23 homers and driven in 95 runs for the White Sox, suffered a charley-horse in running out his second double in the fifth inning and retired from the lineup for the first time this season.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT

Marion, Ill., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Frank Sandlin, business agent for the hod carriers union here was charged with assault with intent to murder today as a result of an argument growing out of the division of work between hod carriers and the unemployed on road construction projects near here.

Sandlin is alleged to have fired a shot at Rufus Farmer, president of the unemployed council of Marion.

CONVICT KILLED

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Two convicts, members of the "Incorrigibles" camp at the Angola state penitentiary, were shot today, one fatally, when they were said to have crossed the guard line without permission while investigating the slaying of a prisoner, apparently by fellow convicts, for having divulged information regarding a planned break.

Sherman Coultas and his wife returned last night from Chicago.

YANKS, SENATORS SPLIT TWIN BILL

Washington, Aug. 7.—(AP)—After extending their winning streak to five straight games with a ninth-inning rally that netted them a 4 to 3 victory in the first game of a double-header today, the Yankees were moved down by Washington's slugging attack in the second encounter and lost 6 to 3.

The defeat cost the Yanks a half game in their pennant race with the Detroit Tigers, leaving them a game and a half behind Mickey Cochrane's victorious club.

Where Johnny Murphy, who once did his flinging for Fordham, limited the Senators to five hits in the opening contest, another Johnny Broaca of Yale, was pounded for 15 blows in the seven innings he worked in the second.

Even with Murphy's fine hurling, the Yankees were hard pressed to take the opener as the lead changed hands four times.

"KY" LAFFOON SCORES A 68

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Ky Laffoon of Denver cracked out a 68 over the east course of Oak Hill to lead a field of professional and amateur stars gathered here for the 72-hole medal play Rochester Centennial Walter Hagen Testimonial Open today.

On the first 18 of the test, Laffoon was out in 33 despite a six on the par five fourth, and was home in 35, with another six on the 13th where his drive caught a creek.

Right behind Laffoon came Tom Newlove, Syracuse, who had five birdies, the same as Laffoon, and scored a 69, an early finish which held throughout most of the day.

Bracketed at 70 came the first amateur, Gordon Taylor Jr. of Toronto and Leo Diegel of Philadelphia. Taylor was out on 37 and home in 33 while Diegel knifed a pair of 35's into his score. Those four were the only ones under par for the 6,800 yard course of par 71.

Eight were bracketed at even par, including Joe Turnesa, New York; Vincent Eldred, Pittsburgh; Harry Cooper, Chicago; Al Houghton, Washington; Gene Sarazen, New York and George Von Elm, New York.

Hagen, in whose honor the tourney is being held, had a 72 as did six other nationally known stars.

CONVICT KILLED

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 7.—(AP)—Two convicts, members of the "Incorrigibles" camp at the Angola state penitentiary, were shot today, one fatally, when they were said to have crossed the guard line without permission while investigating the slaying of a prisoner, apparently by fellow convicts, for having divulged information regarding a planned break.

Sherman Coultas and his wife returned last night from Chicago.

Mattson Allows But Two Blows; Strikes Out Four To Defeat Foxes 3 To 0

The Myers Brothers nine of the Y. M. C. A. American League last evening clinched the championship by defeating the Fox Illinois team by a score of 3 to 0 behind the steady and effective hurling of Mattson. Completing their schedule, the Myers with clean wounds and one defeat.

Mattson, the younger who has been attracting a lot of attention was the mainstay in the attack of the Myers Brothers nine, and his no-run games became almost a "habit." In the league play he has three shut-out victories to his credit. The Lynnville A. C. was held to two hits and the very shot end of a 11 to 0 score; he downed the Bliese Specials by a score of 17 to 0 without giving up a single safe blow, and the third shut-out came in the win last evening. He also beat the Fox Illinois team in a previous battle by a score of 9 to 2, allowing four safeties.

Along with these four victories, he also lost the only defeat recorded against the team's record when the Myers nine was need out by Bliese Specials by a score of 5 to 4. Working to perfection and clicking like a machine behind Mattson and Magner, the Myers Brothers team attracted much attention during the round of play as they caught the winning spirit and stuck to it. Magner was credited with a 7 to 3 win over the Red and White nine and was robbed of a shutout on an error after two were out in the last half of the inning. The shot Myers Brothers victory was a forfeit over the Red and White team.

According to a report handed to this column last night the standing in the league to date is as follows:

Team Won Lost Pct.
Myers Brothers, 5 1 .833
Bliese Specials, 3 2 .600
Fox Illinois, 3 3 .500
Red and White, 0 5 .000

In the National League last evening, the Lynnville A. C. nosed out the Legion Juniors by a score of 9 to 8. The youngsters seem to still have a lot of errors in their systems and their misplays last evening probably cost them the game. The Lynnville nine took advantage of their opponents' weakness and piled up a 9 to 0 lead in the first two innings of play and the Juniors could not supply the necessary punch to overcome the big advantage.

QUADRUPLE TIE FOR GOLF MEDAL

By Paul Michelson
Associated Press Sports Writer
Hinsdale, Ill., Aug. 7.—(AP)—The battle for the Western Junior golf championship medal ended in a quadruple tie today after the fastest qualifying round in the tournament's history.

Keith Johnson, Bloomington, Ill.; Fred Haas, southern amateur champion from New Orleans, Elton Hill, Urbana, Ill., and Ralph Ackerman of Chicago tied for low scoring honors with even par 71's. The four

Fryman Residence Destroyed by Fire in Jersey County

Jerseyville, Aug. 7.—The home of Lester Fryman on the old Tanzberger farm was burned to the ground Saturday evening while Mr. and Mrs. Fryman and their two children were shopping in Jerseyville.

The source of the fire is unknown. Fryman stated that there had been no fire of any nature in the house for more than three hours before the outbreak of the flames. The fire in the kitchen stove was entirely out by three o'clock he said.

The family left home about five-thirty o'clock and drove to Jerseyville to do some trading. While here they were notified that their home was burning and immediately drove to the farm to find that the fire had totally destroyed the house and all of its contents. None of the furniture and clothing of the family was saved from the fire. The blaze had such a strong headway when discovered by neighbors that nothing could be done toward entering the dwelling and saving its contents.

Efforts were concentrated on preventing the spreading of the fire to two large barns that were standing a short distance from the house. There were also three corn cribs adjacent to the barns and other out-buildings.

The prevailing wind from the west assisted in the effort to save the out-buildings. The house was a three room dwelling and the loss is estimated at about $1200. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Rabbits have diminished in numbers greatly in the drought stricken area of Jersey county. Sportsmen report that they have found many of the animals dead in fields and woods, having apparently succumbed to thirst.

As a rule the animals derive considerable of the necessary water content for their bodies from the leafy forage upon which they feed.

Some contend that the rabbits are scarce in the prairie districts due to the fact that they have emigrated to localities in close proximity to larger water courses.

Repair Grade School

Extensive improvements have been underway at the Jerseyville Grade school during the present summer vacation and the interior of the building has been placed in excellent condition for the opening day of school which will be September 3.

All of the old floors have been sanded and scraped smooth then oiled. New floors have been laid in the assembly and the south halls upstairs and downstairs.

The seats have been renovated and varnished in all of the rooms. Considerable work has also been done in the little brick annex across the street from the main building.

At the present time a summer recreational project is being conducted at the school, the basement and playgrounds being utilized in the work.

While many shade trees have died in the City of Jerseyville this summer, the fine elms and maples that shade

the grade school grounds have withstood the drought up to the present time and bid fair to pass without any casualties into the season of long anticipated rainfall with the advent of autumn.

Hold Stroud Funeral

Funeral services for Wiley O. Stroud of Jerseyville were held at the Baptist church in that city Tuesday, August 7th at ten o'clock in the morning. Rev. W. A. Steinkraus officiated and interment was in the Oak Grove cemetery.

Mr. Stroud died at St. Anthony's hospital in St. Louis Saturday evening, August 4th at five-thirty o'clock following an illness of several weeks duration.

The deceased was the son of Silas and Susan Keller Stroud. He was born in Mocksville, North Carolina, November 16, 1854 and at the time of his death he had attained the age of seventy-nine years, eight months and eighteen days.

For a number of years Mr. Stroud was engaged in farming in Jersey county but he retired many years ago and has made his home in the City of Jerseyville. The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Fanny Stella Stroud of this city.

Visits Father

Russell Warner, cashier of the Jersey State bank, went to Medora Sunday to visit with his father, H. E. Warner who sustained minor injuries last week when he was kicked by a horse.

Mr. Warner went into the barn lot to turn the horses out for the night when the accident took place. He does not remember anything pertaining to the attack but apparently was knocked to the ground by one of the animals and was kicked, becoming unconscious. Warner returned to his home and an examination revealed that he had sustained three fractured ribs. He is improving nicely.

Crader-Ulery Marriage

Miss Phyllida Crader and Joseph Ulery of Hamburg, Calhoun county, Illinois, were united in marriage at one o'clock Saturday afternoon, Aug. 4th in Jerseyville. Elder T. J. Roedy of Kane performed the ceremony and the couple was attended by Miss Naomi Ulery and Louis Ulery, sister and brother of the groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus C. Crader of Hamburg and the groom is the son of Thomas T. Ulery also of that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulery will reside on a farm near Hamburg.

Visitors from Springfield

Sister Catherine Marie of the Sacred Heart convent in Springfield, came to Jerseyville Sunday to remain until Thursday visiting with her father, William F. Fahey and her aunt, Miss Margaret Ferns. Sister Catherine Marie was formerly Miss Catherine Fahey of this city.

She was accompanied to Jerseyville by Sister Mary Charles, Sister Mary Urban and Sister Vincent Fayre, who will teach at St. Francis Xavier's school in this city during the coming year.

Visits Here Enroute to New York

Attorney Eldredge Hart of Winter Park, Florida, arrived in Jerseyville Saturday to spend a few days at the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Schwarz. He is enroute to New York City where he will visit with his wife, Dr. Ruth Hart, who is doing research work at the Bellevue hospital and the Woman's hospital in that city. Dr. Hart has been taking special work at Johns Hopkins university for the past few weeks. She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Schwarz of this city.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barrett of Pontiac, arrived in Jerseyville Tuesday to spend several days as the guests of the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. King.

Mrs. Anthony Pegues, daughter, Loretta and son, Francis, returned Saturday to their home in Jerseyville after spending a few days in Chicago attending the Century of Progress Exposition. They were accompanied home by Mr. and Mrs. William Kilgus and two children of Chicago who will be their guests.

Mrs. George O'Rear and daughter, Miss Janet, of Kennett, Missouri, spent Saturday and Sunday in Jerseyville at the home of the former's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Adams.

Son of Cass Sheriff Found Dead in Bed

Beardstown, Aug. 7.—William Franklin Dick, son of James Dick who acted as sheriff of Cass county during the famous Armstrong murder trial, died suddenly at his home six and one-half miles northeast of Beardstown, at 7 o'clock Sunday night at the age of 69 year 6 months 19 days. He was a prominent Sangamon Valley farmer and a member of one of Cass county's pioneer families. His father was sheriff in this county when Abraham Lincoln successfully defended "Duff" Armstrong on a charge of murder, in the famous "almacen" trial conducted in the old Beardstown court house.

The decedent had been in unusually good health until Sunday, when he complained of not feeling well. He joined the family at dinner about 4 o'clock, however, and then retired with his newspaper to read awhile. Members of the family found him dead in bed a few hours later.

The body was brought to the Simpson Home for Services here to be prepared for burial, and will be returned to the late home where funeral services will be held at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. H. D. Trickey, pastor of the Sangamon Valley Presbyterian church, will be in charge. The interment will be in the family lot in the Oak Grove cemetery.

Arizona Is Spectacular at Fair

Desert scene at the World's Fair in Chicago. This is a part of the Arizona exhibit where 58 species of cacti are shown. The Indians are Princess Silver Heels, Chief Red Feather, Apaches, and in the rear, Chief Little Horse, a Papago, member of a tribe noted for its basket weaving. The large cactus is a Saguaro. These grow to a height of 40 feet and weigh many tons. The Arizona exhibit is being seen for the first time this year, and is proving to be one of the most interesting educational exhibits in the Hall of States.

Local Man Tells of Harry Story to Take Pit Silo Advantage Part in Scout Show

Farmers in this section are wondering how they are going to salvage what the drought has left of their corn crop. Storing it as silage is the only hope, but if there is no silo on the farm, or none of sufficient capacity, what is to be done?

In this emergency I. A. Dicks, 360 East Douglas avenue, gives his experience with the trench or pit silo, which he has found highly satisfactory on his farm two miles south of Waverly on Route 111. Mr. Dicks also has a concrete block silo on his farm near Modesto, but he prefers the trench silo, from which he has secured most excellent results.

Mr. Dicks' silo is a trench 62 feet long, 8 feet wide at the bottom and 14 feet wide at the top, and four feet deep. One end is a straight wall of earth and the other is sloping to permit a team to enter the trench. By the use of poles banked with the dirt taken from the trench, Mr. Dicks builds the silo walls three feet above ground.

The silage is packed into the trench and banked walls and is well tramped with a team of horses. Mr. Dicks estimates that the silo will hold 120 to 125 tons of silage, well packed. He covers the top with half-rotted straw. Dirt can be used for the top, but Mr. Dicks has found the straw more satisfactory.

He finds this type of silo even more convenient than the regular circular type, because feeding can be done from one end, without disturbing the top. A team and wagon can be used to haul the feed to the stock. The silage is cut off as needed, and will yield about two tons for each foot of the silo's length.

This silo should be constructed on high ground, perhaps a knoll is possible. This permits drainage, though a normal amount of water will not harm the silage, but keep it lipped up. In fact in the present dry season, it may be necessary to use water with the silage when it is stored.

OPEN OFFICE HERE

The Chicago-St. Louis Transfer Co. has opened an office in this city at 112 north West street, with Roy Griffith as local manager.

K. E. Nuckolls of the Springfield office was in the city Tuesday making arrangements.

Burgoo Soup, Sandwiches, Ice Cream, entertainment, Oxville, Thursday evening.

Harry Story, member of Boy Scout Troop 7 of Jacksonville, and Eagle Scout, will represent the Mascoutah area at the Eagle village during the State Fair. The village is located on the fair grounds and has been a regular feature of the fair for the past several years.

A select group of Eagle Scouts from areas surrounding Springfield are invited each year to camp at the village while the fair is being held and take part in the demonstrations given each day. These demonstrations include camp craft, fancy marching, archery, whip-cracking, handicraft and games. Part of the village is also given over to exhibiting maps, bridges, signal towers, bells, knot boards, and various other articles made by the Scouts.

Arrangements have been made for Rev. William Swartzwelder of Zanesville, O., to lead the prayer meeting at the Grace church on Wednesday evening of this week. The many friends of Rev. Swartzwelder will be glad of this opportunity to attend a service under his leadership. The meeting will be held in the basement of the church.

this Great New MOTOR OIL...

... is the climax of Continental Oil Company's 59 years of leadership in quality products. Continental offers you, through 18,000 Conoco Stations in 40 states, the finest product in its history—New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil!

A Really New Motor Oil!

Continental research scientists spent two years developing it, made thousands of experiments and tests and drove this new oil 963,000 miles in road tests.

This great new oil has two to four times greater film strength than any straight mineral oil. Penetrates and combines with metal surfaces—providing "The Hidden Quart that never drains away." Is stable under all conditions; will not thin out. Prevents carbon and sludge troubles.

Superiority Proved!

Unquestionable proof that this new oil gives greater motor protection and lower oil consumption was provided by the Indianapolis Destruction Test, under AAA Contest Board Supervision (Sanction No. 3001). Six new stock cars were driven to destruction to test New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil against five nationally known oils. Five quarts of this new oil carried its car 4,729 miles—3,015.8 miles farther than the first oil to fail and 1,410.2 miles farther than the best of the five oils.

Change to New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil at any Conoco Red Triangle Station. Know your motor has the finest protection you can give it!

AMALGAMATED CLOTHING WORKERS HOLD MEET

About three hundred members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Local No. 199 met last evening at the I. O. O. F. hall.

The questions pertaining to the emergency distress fund was enthusiastically accepted by the members. Questions relative to the organization were introduced by the executive board and discussed and acted upon.

Back in America, his vacation ended, President Roosevelt, turned his attention to inspection of Federal projects. Here he is shown studying a map of the $45,000,000 Bonneville Dam on the Columbia River near Portland, Oregon. Left to right: Col. T. S. Robbins, U. S. Army district engineer, Secretary of War Dern, President Roosevelt, Governor Julius Meier of Oregon.

Zuppke Believes Illini are Ready

Need Centers, Ends and Fullbacks, He Says, in Talking Over Prospects

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 7.—Inspired by the memory of their strong showing last season when they were only two points shy of a tie for the Big Ten championship, Bob Zuppke, Illini coach, looked forward confidently to the 1934 campaign.

A year ago Zuppke predicted that Illinois football was on the up-grade and the record of the Fighting Illini the ensuing season convinced their followers that they were back up there. Now a majority of the regulars who defeated Chicago, Wisconsin and Northwestern and lost to Michigan and Ohio State in thrilling battles by 7-6 scores, representing missed tries for goals after touchdowns, will return to form a comfortable nucleus.

Coach Zuppke, in fine physical and mental spirits, as he makes ready to open his 22nd season at the Illinois helm, reiterates his confidence in the lads who have put the Illini back on the gridiron map.

"I think Illinois should be as strong as last year," Zuppke says, "but I don't see any soft spots on a schedule of five Big Ten teams and Army. I feel sure of one thing. Our boys will have the same spirit and courage which were such big factors last year."

"We must develop centers, ends and fullbacks, and we'll miss the men who filled these positions. Our freshman team looked better than it had for several seasons but we will lose some good prospects for one reason or another, which is usually the case and is unavoidable. We won't really know where we stand until September, but we expect to be in there fighting and giving them the kind of game Illinois fans expect from us."

Eight of the 1933 varsity lettermen are gone: Walser, center and fullback; Frink, Schustek and Straw, ends; Bloom, center; Platt, guard; and Cook and Snook, fullbacks. This leaves the following 12 lettermen available:

Quarterback—Jack Beynon. Halfbacks—Frank Froehauer, Les Lindberg, Crain Portman. Tackles—Arvo Antilla, Chuck Galbreath, Red Gragg, Bart Cummings, Harry Palmer.

Guards—Chuck Bennis, Ed Gryboski, Cliff Kuhn. Seven of these players, Beynon, Froehauer, Lindberg, Antilla, Galbreath, Bennis and Gryboski, were regulars and nearly all the rest played considerably.

Jack Beynon and Chuck Bennis are co-captains. Beynon's passing and Lindberg's kicking were important factors in the Illinois campaign last year. Bennis was an outstanding line-man, whose performances against Michigan aroused the admiration of the Wolverine coaches.

The lettermen monopolized the playing last season but these nine squadmen who will be available had more or less time; Bob Wright, who snaggled Beynon's pass over the Ohio State goal for the Illinois touchdown; Cliff Gano, quarterback; George Frederick, center; Bill Waller, Harvey Benson and Vin VanMeter, ends; Steve Steib and El Van Orman, halfbacks and Gus Kowalski, guard. Paul Gibbs, basketball letterman in 1933, will return to the university and be a candidate for quarterback.

Kuhn was shifted from guard to end where the Mooseheart boy showed promise. Gene Drake, a wing prospect last season until incapacitated, is a possibility. But the end situation is wide open and so is center. It is not going to be easy to locate a capable pivot man. El Sayre, Waikana; Tom Eastman, Chicago; Mauritz Ringquist, Moline; and Stan Hutson, Sesser, are new aspirants, while George Frederick has the advantage of two year's squad experience.

Henry Bruder, guard, Indianapolis, no kin of Hank Bruder of Northwestern fame, is probably the outstanding sophomore line-man. Bob Rourke and Bob Cook, Springfield, are other new guards. Leading sophomore tacklers are likely to be Frank Barnhart of Ottawa and "Tiny" Morris of Le-Grange.

Wilbur Henry, sophomore from Benton, a rangy six-footer and all-round athlete, who plays basketball and baseball as well as football, will figure in the backfield picture. It is predicted: Ken Meenan, former Northwestern halfback, who weighs 205 pounds but is fast and shifty, has loads of ability. Ken Bradley, Peconia, is another sophomore back.

Two sophomores, Howard Carson, Charleston, and John Theodore, Spring Valley, will battle for the half-back position. Spring Valley also contributes a battling little quarterback, Fred Faletti, but his third prod-uct, Ed Wilkatie, promising halfback, on account of an injury, will not at-tempt to play until next year. Bob Grieve, sophomore sprinter from Glen Ellyn, is diminutive but fast as a ball-carrier.

BAPTIST INFANT PASSES AWAY HERE

Shirley Ann Baptist, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Baptist, passed away at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ledford on East State street this morning at 12:15 o'clock. The child was two weeks of age.

Funeral services will be held at the William A. Funeral Home Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

MRS. SUTER HONORED WITH MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. Elmore Suter was honored last evening with a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. Harold Rabjohns, 1221 Park Place. Mrs. Suter before her recent marriage was Miss Marilla Bussey.

The evening hours were spent in playing "Your Luck," a game arranged by the hostess. Awards were made to Anna Mae Rice, first, and Mrs. Elmore Suter, second. At the close of the evening dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, following a color scheme of pink and white.

The guest list included Mrs. Elmore Suter, Mrs. Harry Cully, Mrs. Lloyd Black, Mrs. Leland Mansfield, Mrs. Howard Bussey, Mrs. James Young, Miss Esther Dumas, Miss Mildred Hamilton, Miss Lucy Wilson, Miss Anna Mae Rice, Miss Edna Bussey and Mrs. Harold Rabjohns.

The only slight casualty reported in the stores D. Jar Day was caused when the host overcame Mrs. Zeke Edwards who was shopping in one of the downtown stores. For a time it was thought that her condition was serious, but relief was soon administered by a doctor and she rallied her strength. Mrs. Edwards came to the city to shop in company with her husband from Nortonville.

PIKE COUNTY FAIR OPENS TUESDAY AT GRIGGSVILLE

Today is Homecoming at Exposition; Other News Notes

Griggsville, August 7.—Thousands of people came to Griggsville Monday in preparation for the big Pike County Fair which opened here Tuesday. Early Tuesday morning, the big racing cars began tuning up on the race track in preparation for the Tuesday afternoon races. The first of the horse shows was held Tuesday evening. There was a fine lot of free acts. The Four-H Club, cakes and general exhibits, cattle, hogs and horses all had splendid exhibits and there was promise of the finest racing card for years at the Pike County Fair.

House Burns
A small residence in Maysville just west of the Wabash depot caught on fire Monday evening about 8:30 P. M. The Griggsville fire department was called and responded and succeeded in keeping the fire from burning the Wabash depot, but the residence property was destroyed.

Annual Picnic
The Annual Picnic and Homecoming will be held on the Pike County Fair Grounds Wednesday August 22. It will be an all-day picnic with games, contests, races and program of amusements from 10 A. M. and concluding with an evening program.

Over seventy prizes have already been secured for the various events. These will shortly be placed on display in one of the up-town windows. This year there will be sixteen prizes given to the cake bakers, a first and a second for eight varieties of cakes: angel food chocolate angel food, white butter cake with white icing, white butter cake with coconut icing, white butter cake with chocolate icing, devil's food, sunshane, and burnt sugar.

Quarterly Conference
The Fourth Quarterly Conference of the Church will be held Thursday, August 23 in the evening. Reports for the year will be due for presentation in writing. Bethel's Quarterly Conference will be held at 10:00 A. M. August 23.

Bethel Homecoming
The Big Bethel Homecoming will be held August 19. There will be messages from former pastors and a good program of music and a fine picnic dinner on the church lawn. All are cordially invited to bring well-filled baskets and enjoy the occasion.

Election of Lay Delegates
The election of the lay and reserve lay delegates will be held next Sunday morning. Slips will be provided on which the adult members of the Church can express their choice for delegate and reserve. This delegate is to represent the Church in the annual conference session.

Union Services
The union service last Sunday evening proved very interesting and novel. Following the message of the pastor who spoke on his experience while riding in a zeppelin, and the special music, the assembled audience listened to the message of Pres. Roosevelt, a radio having been installed on the platform. Next Sunday evening Rev. Loren Furstenberger will speak. There will be special music and a helpful and inspiring service. All are welcome to attend.

SECURITY MARKS
MOVE DOWNWARD

By Frederick Gardner
Associated Press Financial Writer
New York, Aug. 7.—(AP)—Reports of drought devastation in the west continued to oppress sentiment in Wall street today and security markets sagged in face of further appreciation in commodity values.

Stocks without scattered liquidation and closed irregular, with losses predominating. Weakness in second-grade railroad bonds and another wave of foreign selling of the dollar caused some uneasiness but traders were reluctant to sell stocks.
Inflation talk persisted and kept metals and other "inflation" share groups in the speculative eye.
Rail shares, along with bonds, continued to bear the heaviest weight of liquidation and sold at new lows for the year on the average. Union Pacific dropped 4 points to a new 1934 low. Santa Fe also sold at the lowest price recorded this year. Selling was chiefly in rails traversing the drought-stricken areas.

Transfers dwindled to 60,810 shares compared with 73,950 yesterday. The Standard Statistics Co., average for 90 stocks sagged two-tenths of a point to 69.
General Motors scored a net gain of a point as the market was pleasantly surprised by the declaration of an extra dividend of 50 cents. In contrast, Chrysler sold at a new low within a fraction of 29.
Metal shares encountered profit-taking and finished moderately lower.

Corn products was a weak spot, dropping more than a point to new low ground for the year. Corn and meal under share weakened on future arrivals of the drought damage.
U. S. Steel, General Electric, Du Pont and other prominent shares moved narrowly, finishing with little change.

Prince Otto Leaves His Exile for Trip to Italian Capital

Brussels, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The Archduke Otto, claimant to the throne of Austria, left his Belgian exile by automobile today. It was announced that he was headed for Italy to join his mother, the Empress Zita, who has been there for the last three weeks.

Rome, Aug. 7.—(AP)—The departure of the Archduke Otto, pretender to the Austrian throne, from Brussels today strengthened reports current here that he will meet Premier Mussolini, despite denials by government attaches.

It frequently has been rumored that a marriage by King Victor Emmanuel's youngest daughter, the Princess Maria, 19 years old, has been sought for Otto in the past the chances for such a union have been so far off here.

Since the assassination of Chancellor Dollfus, however, many believe that the return of a Hapsburg to the Austrian throne is needed as an assurance against the final triumph of the Nazis in Austria.

In the monarchy is restored, Otto's position as a suitor for Maria's hand would be altered considerably.

It is accepted here as a fact that Chancellor Schuschnigg will come to Italy shortly to visit Mr. Duce, but whether Otto will participate in the conference is conjectural.

"MARY FAITH" by Beatrice Burton

CHAPTER XLI

"I've got to go back to work, and Mark Nesbit would pay me more than anybody else, Jean," she added. "Kim's left me."

"Again? What was the matter with him this time?"

Mary Faith shrugged. "Too many parties and too many pals, I suppose. Don't worry about me, Jean. You know how Kim is. . . . He'll come to his senses after a while, and everything will be all right."

"That's what you always say," Jean remarked tartly. "I don't see how you can go on believing in him, Mary Faith, when he treats you the way he does. . . . Why don't you leave him for good? Why don't you come out to Arizona and make some kind of a new life for yourself?"

"No, I haven't any money to take me and the baby to Arizona. I haven't any money at all, Jean. . . . Look here, will you speak to Mr. Nesbit in the morning? Ask him if he'll consider me for your place, and explain how things are with me? I suppose I ought to have too much pride to go back to work for him, but all I'm thinking of now is the baby. I've got to bring him up decently."

At noon the next day Jean telephoned her.

"I've just told Mr. Nesbit that I'm leaving, and I've told him that you'd like to come back," she said. "You know the company never employs married women, don't you?—So I had to explain to him that you're separated from Kim, and he suggested that you drop in to see him on Monday morning."

Mary Faith stood beside the telephone for a long time after she had hung up the receiver. Something that her mother had said to her years and years before came back to her now and seemed to echo through the quiet little rooms of the flat.

"I never really worry about things, Mary Faith," she had said. "The Lord never closes one door without opening another."

Until now Mary Faith had never fully understood what she meant by that. She meant, of course, that there was always a way out of trouble if only you had faith—faith that you would find it.

And, as if to prove her words, here was the way back to Nesbit's opening before her just when every other way in life was closed to her. When Kim had left her, refusing to support her. When her mother-in-law had gone, leaving Mary Faith to face the problem of finding work and caring for the baby at the same time.

"Now it's all settled," she thought as she stood there in the dim little hall beside the telephone. With her salary at Nesbit's she could live at Mrs. Puckett's and hire a nursemaid to look after the baby during the day. It would be hard slodding to do it on thirty-seven dollars a week, but it could be done.

On Monday morning Mary Faith took the baby to Mrs. Puckett's and left him there for two hours while she went downtown to see Mark Nesbit.

There was a tight feeling in her throat as she went up the narrow staircase of the old building. She remembered how many times, years before, she had run eagerly down them to meet Kim waiting for her in the street below, debonair and smiling and good to look at, slouched behind the driving wheel of his little open car. . . . How many noons she had sat at her desk upstairs, embroidering guest towels and tablecloths while she listened to Jean lecture on the evils of long engagements. . . . How lovely life had been then, and how much lovelier it had promised to be!

"Well, it was lovely part of the time," she told herself. "I've been happier at times than some women ever are, no matter how long they live."

She went on up the stairs saying to herself a bit of sentimental poetry that she had read in one of her father's books, a novel called "Aladin O'Brien":

"Give me three breaths of pleasure After three deaths of pain—"

Her life with Kim had been like that. Long periods of pain when he left her, and then the joy of taking

"Jean Bartlett says that you'll consider giving me back my old position here, Mr. Nesbit," said Mary Faith.

him back and knowing that he was wholly hers for months at a time. She stood at the top of the iron stairs for two or three minutes to get her breath and to screw up her courage.

It was going to take all of her courage to open the door of the office and step into it. To face Miss Saxe and Miss Kelly and Mark Nesbit—the people who knew all about her and who would know now that she had come back to them defeated, asking for a job.

The familiar sounds of the place came to her ears as she stood there, like music heard long ago when her life was younger and happier. . . . The clicking of typewriters, the sound of Miss Kelly's voice, the sudden sharp ringing of a telephone.

She turned the handle of the door and stepped inside. Everything seemed to be just about as it always had been. Green-shaded lights above golden-oak desks, shiny cork floor, high narrow windows that looked out toward the west.

Miss Saxe leaned over her typewriter, her fingers flying, her eyes bent on a shorthand pad beside her. . . . Miss Gilday read a book, propped up before her on the switchboard, as she worked. . . . A new office boy, who looked enough like Stanley Odesalki to be his brother, was getting a drink at the water cooler in the corner. Even the water cooler was the same dark blue one that had always stood in that corner.

The boy turned away from the cooler and saw her.

"I'm Mrs. Farrell. I have an appointment with Mr. Nesbit," she said to him, stopping beside Miss Saxe's desk to shake hands with her.

"I'll tell Mr. Nesbit that she's here, Leonard," Miss Kelly sang out to the boy, and she said something into the telephone before she got down from her perch to greet Mary Faith.

"Well, if it isn't grand to see you! And looking so well, too!" The sweet, slightly nauseating smell of peanut brittle rose to Mary Faith's nostrils as she put her arms around her. "I just told Mr. Nesbit that you're here. He says to step right into his room."

Feeling perfectly calm and collected, Mary Faith walked across the shiny cork floor and opened the door of Mark Nesbit's private office.
